TEXAS TECH'S LARGEST COMPUTER SCIENCE STUDENT ORGANIZATION

Use Particle.js for the background

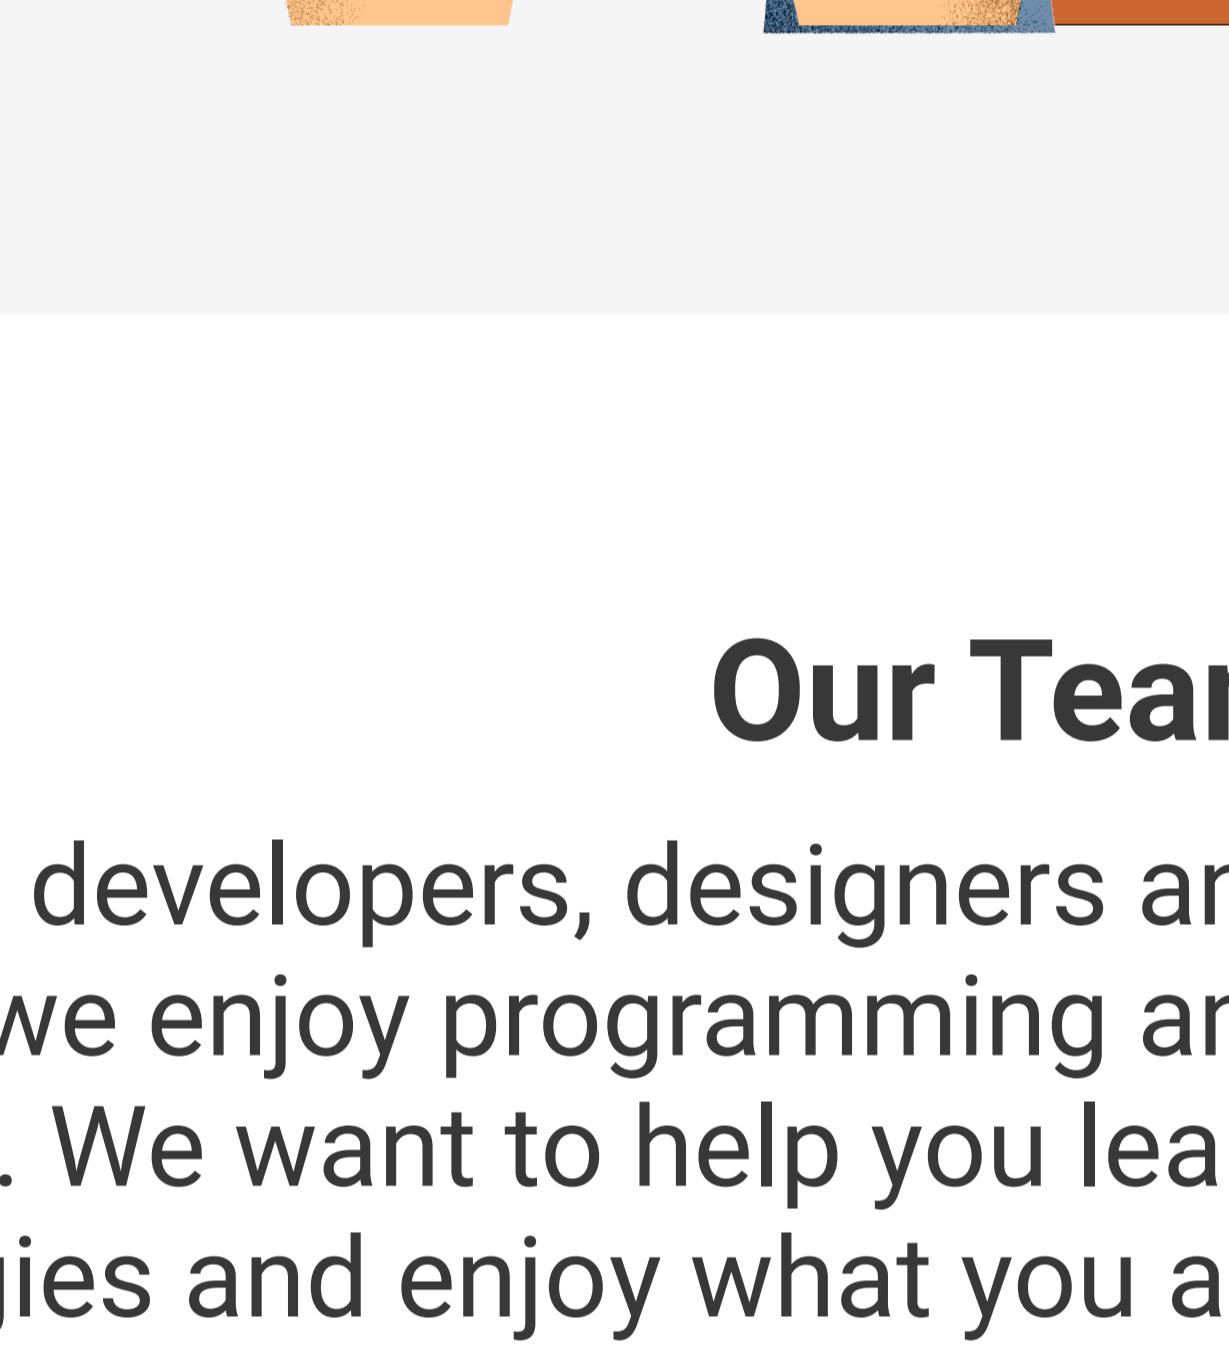

Events

ACM organizes a variety of events where each and every student that attends can walk away with learning something new or by making a new friend that can teach them something along the way

Software Development Club

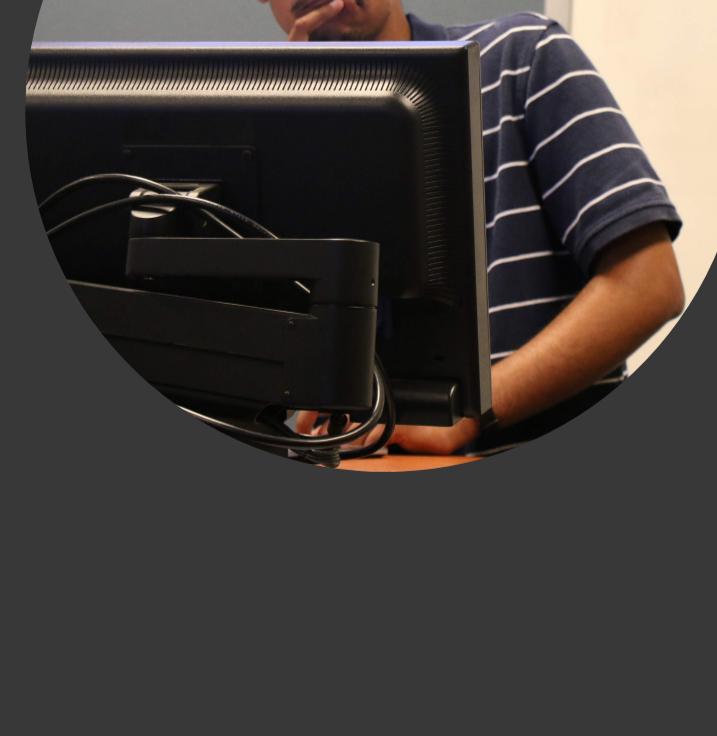

We support software and hardware projects and provide knowledge from individuals who are passionate about teaching others.

Our Team

Our officers are practicing developers, designers and engineers. Just like you, we enjoy programming and creating awesome products. We want to help you learn about interesting technologies and enjoy what you are doing
